What do CyberFirst Ambassadors do?

Cyber Ambassadors are volunteers from industry, academia and the wider cyber community who use their experience to inspire and support young people to explore cyber security, digital and technology careers. They:

- Engage young people in cyber security through school, college and community activities.
- Deliver workshops, talks and cyber-themed events.
- Support CyberFirst competitions, hackathons and outreach activities.
- Share career journeys and promote pathways into cyber careers.
- Connect education with industry, linking students and teachers with employers.
- Encourage participation in CyberFirst and wider cyber education programmes.
- Build industry networks to support mentoring, volunteering and work experience opportunities.
- Facilitate employer engagement and work experience with cyber organisations.
